DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION OPENS TODAY

Harrison Keynote Speech Is Chief Feature Today

Prolonged Demonstration at Mention of Wilson's Name.

13,000 AT SESSION

Despite Dissension Over Candidates Democrats In Unison at the Opening of the Convention.

By Associated Press.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN,
New York, June 24.—Rolling along a great wave of party enthusiasm, despite deep differences over candidates, the democratic national convention at a brief session today gave itself over to cheers for the party, roaring approval of temporary chairman Pat Harrison's lambasting of the Harding-Coolidge administration.

While the contest over delegates and platform principles was laid aside temporarily, 13,000 delegates and visitors to the convention gathered under the sizzling roof of Madison Square Garden through the formalities of getting the convention under way.

The first big demonstration came when the temporary chairman mentioned the name of Woodrow Wilson.
It was nearly half an hour before the great audience quieted again and the temporary chairman resumed his keynote speech, which was the principal part of today's business of the convention. Until the session reassembles tomorrow the various committees will continue at work.

The permanent chairman, taken charge of the meeting tomorrow.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 24.—The democratic convention came to order for the first session at 12:43 o'clock.
After delaying the opening to permit police to straighten out the traffic jam outside which was keeping hundreds of delegates and visitors from the hall, Chairman Hull, looking refreshed and better after his attack of exhaustion and heat stroke, brought down the gavel. The great audience stood in silent reverence during the prayer. Showers of tiny American flags which had been concealed in the folds of the ceiling decorations fell like so many colored leaves at the conclusion of the invocation.

Senator Harrison, temporary chairman, was escorted to the speakers' stand amid rousing welcome. Delegates rose and cheered him while he pounded for order. His address was interrupted from the start with hurrahs. The senator's reference to cor-ruptions in high places and to Harry Daugherty sitting as a delegate at the republican national convention brought cries of, "Go to it, Pat." Delegates of old-time democratic conventions frequently interrupted with cries of "Good! Hit 'em again." Instead of pointing toward a shouting convention from the start.

It became increasingly hot as the sun burst from behind the clouds and began beating down upon the roof of Madison Square Garden. When the temporary chairman, Senator Harrison, started speaking, he appeared hot and uncomfortable in the long-tailed coat. He launched rapidly into his speech, apparently desiring to finish it as soon as possible. Nevertheless, the speaker put much emphasis into parts of his address, referring only occasional to his manuscript. As he got into form, he used vigorous gestures, walked about the narrow platform so that it was necessary to caution him to stay nearer the radio microphone through which his address was being broadcast.

Senator Harrison's jibes at the Middle West and the Fordney-McCumber tariff law were greeted with repeated shouts of approbation. There was a prolonged cheering when Harrison declared the armaments conference were held despite the republican administration. A whoop from Montana sounded from the other delegates following the speaker's charge that the republican national committee "transacted a democratic session because he dared to do right." A demonstration led by the Montanans followed the declaration that the senate transaction had passed nothing which would diminish the armaments. A shout from the Montanans was heard again.

FROST IN WYOMING!

Weather Reported Unseasonably Cold

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo., June 24.—A light frost was reported all over central and western Wyoming and northwestern Utah Friday morning, following a snowfall in this region. Weather has been unseasonably cold the last three days, but no damage to crops is reported.

Qualifying Promises to Run High Due to Weather.

ing for Tournament, Picks

Torrential rains of yesterday evening and this morning have played havoc with the low fairways of the Middlesboro Country Club. Unless there is plenty of sunshine throughout the day and a warm wind tonight the qualifying scores of the Kentucky State Golf Tournament, which begins early tomorrow morning, will be quite high. In fact, casual water on the course at present, makes it possible that players with qualifying cards of 170 for the thirty-six holes will win places in the first flight.

Louisville's contingent arrived on two private cars this morning. Lexington is here in force. Winchester's delegation is expected before night and each train brings new parties from other cities and it seems certain that the field tomorrow will reach 150 and may go higher. And it will be a fast tourney, despite the weather, practically every Kentucky golfer of any reputation being entered.

Chris Brinke, former state champion and runner up in 1923, will arrive in the morning. This announcement was made today by the Louisville contingent and the news was extremely gratifying for Brinke is one of the most popular golfers in Kentucky. He makes friends wherever he plays and should furnish the gallery with plenty of thrills. There are few smarter golfers in the state.

All Out Practicing

Every early arrival proceeded directly to the course and began practice rounds in spite of the rain. The first to tee off was John Marshall, of Louisville, present state champion.
He played with Craig Wood, professional of the Louisville Country Club.
Marshall completed the nine holes in 43 and his companion romped in with a 37, two above par, which is mighty good golf on a soggy course.

Gail Alexander, of Lexington, went second in 42, Ted Ottman, city champion of Louisville, turned in a 44, Frank Fehr, of the Audubon Country Club, a 41, and his fellow clubman, Louis Tachau, a 42.

The feature of the morning play was Fehr's drive from the old number one, a 300 yard downhill test.
Fehr crashed his tee shot hole high and four feet from the cup, sinking an eagle two. He was playing in a foursome with Tachau, Bobby Craig, pro of the Audubon Club of Louisville, and Milton Frost, of the Standard Country Club, also of Louisville.
Tachau's second shot was a pitch from the edge of the green that came to rest less than a foot from the tin.
Tomorrow's qualifying round will begin at 7:45 a. m. and the four-somes will move from the first tee at five minute intervals. Two tents have been erected beside the first tee, one for Starter Bob Craig and the other for the newspapermen. Private telephone lines have been laid for the convenience of the correspondents.

Boy Known All Over State

For three years in state championship play, golfers have become accustomed to witness the striking play of Tommy's most famous caddy, Tommy Joseph, a 14-year-old boy, of Lexington. Tommy is as famous in Kentucky as "One Eye" Connelly in the betting game. He manages to make his way to state tournaments, no matter what distance the event is staged from his home, and he always comes "on his own." The lad apparently dropped from the clouds this morning. No one knows how he got here and Tommy won't tell.

"Aw, I just floated in" replied Tommy, when the writer sought to learn whether the youngster rode the blind baggage or came down via air plane. "You see I ain't missed a tournament in three years and I want to keep this year for Mr. Marshall."

LEGISLATOR UP FOR MOONSHING

Virginian Get 60 Days, $100 Fine For Making His Own Liquor.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., June 24.
—C. B. Conway pleaded guilty before Judge R. H. L. Chichester in Caroline Circuit Court, at Bowling Green, to the indictment charging him with manufacturing liquor and having a still in his possession. He was sentenced to $100 fine and sixty days in jail. Conway was released on 1,000 bond until the October term of court begin when the jail sentence will begin.
Conway is a prominent citizen of Caroline County and is a member of the County Democratic Committee of the Legislature for one term as the delegate from Caroline.

The offense for which he was convicted occurred on May 1 when his place near Moss Neck, Caroline County, was raided by prohibition officers, who found a fifty-gallon still in full operation in the kitchen of Conway's home, together with a quantity of corn whiskey and mash.

Conway, who was away from home at the time of the search, surrendered himself to the Caroline authorities the following morning and was released on bail pending the grand jury investigation, which took place on last Monday.

Funeral Today For
Mrs. J. G. Fitzpatrick

Funeral services for Mrs. John G.
Fitzpatrick were held at the Fitzpatrick residence at 10 o'clock this morning. Dr. R. E. Douglas, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was in charge of the services. Interment was at Colton cemetery.

The services were quite brief. A quartet composed of Miss Mildred Kerr, Mrs. E. A. Rhorer, C. G.
Smyth and Warren Cunningham, accompanied by Mrs. J. T. Alderson, sang "Abide With Me" and "My Faith Looks Up To Thee," and Dr. Douglas offered a prayer. Floral offerings in great profusion expressed the great affection in which Mrs. Fitzpatrick's friends held her.

Guard Still Kept
on West End Streets

The city is still maintaining the guard service to keep traffic from the newly completed sections of West Cumberland and Petersburg avenues.
Pending the acceptance of the street by the city this precaution will remain in order that the new asphalt may not be damaged by automobiles.
Commission will again meet with the home-drawn vehicles. The city property owners at 10 o'clock Thursday morning and efforts will be made to effect a compromise in order that the street may be opened.

Tax Supervisors Hear Complaints of Assessed

Complaints of property owners are being heard now by the board of city tax supervisors which is in session at the city hall. About 900 of these, it is understood, were notified to be present though the assessments of all these had not been increased. Many did not voluntarily submit their assessments and such were made without their knowledge. According to previously announced plans, the board will remain in session throughout tomorrow for the adjustments.

LITTLE GIRL RUN OVER BY AUTO. DIES

Daughter of Four Mile Resident Hit By Car as She Steps From Behind Wagon.

Genevieve eight-year-old daughter of Will Lewis, of Four Mile, was fatally injured when run over by a tourist automobile yesterday afternoon. The driver, whose home is in Pontiac, Mich., and who was returning from the South, brought the victim to the Wilson hospital at Pineville immediately after the accident and she died there three hours later.

According to reports, the child stepped out from behind a wagon directly in front of the tourist car. The accident being obviously unavoidable the driver of the car was not arrested.

MAUGHAN SPANS CONTINENT IN LESS 22 HOURS

Airman Succeeds New York to Frisco Flight.

ONLY FIVE STOPS
Huge Throng Greet Air Hero—

ern Time, Arrives 9:48 Pacific Time.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan, army flier, successfully completed his daylight-to-dusk flight from New York to San Francisco, when he landed at Crissy field at 9:48 p. m. yesterday.
He arrived in San Francisco at 9:44
p. m.

As soon as the plane landed newspapers broke through police lines holding back a huge crowd lining the field and greeted the flier. A few seconds later the mammoth throng of spectators, cheering and shouting, while automobile sirens shrieked in a bedlam of noise, surged over the landing field and surrounded the plane.

Maughan landed on a brilliant pathway of huge flares making the field almost as bright as day. The landing was made without mishap.
The plane, in which Maughan left New York at 2:59 1/2 a. m. (eastern standard time) on his third attempt to span the continent, was first sighted when he circled over the field twice in the deepening dusk.

Maughan dropped down on the field at the northeast corner, and taxied to the center of the field.
There he became the center of a surging, shouting, wildly excited mass of spectators.

Maughan's landing at 9:48 p. m. made his time for the 2,670 miles of air line dash from New York including five refueling stops enroute 21 hours 48 minutes, slightly under his original estimate of the time the flight would consume.

Apparently overcome with emotion and jubilant at the victory which he has achieved, Lieutenant Maughan seemed unable to speak when his plane came to a stop. His face bore a serious and drawn expression.

NO TAXI DRIVERS TAKING LICENSES

Concessions to Operators of Line of Cars Has Had No Noticeable Effect.

No taxicab drivers have taken advantage of the city's license concession for operators of more than one car who establish a permanent office, according to reports from the city collector.

The number of taxi men has decreased noticeably since the seventy-five dollar license fee has been in effect, the records show. Not more than half a dozen operators have taken license this year while a year ago there were about sixty licensed drivers. The decline in the business is attributed to the high rate of license fees and the growth of the bus traffic during recent years.

However, it is reported that a number of men occasionally do a taxi business who have not taken out license for this year. City commissioners have instructed the police to keep a check on these and stop such violations where possible.

ADMINISTRATION IS CONDEMNED IN KEYNOTE SPEECH

Senator Harrison Says a Paul Revere, Not
Sphinx, Needed.

BITING CRITICISM

Indictment of Frauds Found by Sensational Probes Made — Declares Promises
Unfulfilled.

NEW YORK, June 24.—America needs a Paul Revere, "not a sphinx," in the White House, to call it back to duty and high resolve, Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, declared today in sounding the keynote at the Democratic National Convention.

In an address condemning the Republican administration—its policies, both domestic and foreign—the temporary chairman called on democrats everywhere, "with victory within their grasp," to unite against a common enemy.

"Oh for one in the White House," he said, "whose heart might be melted and courage aroused to sympathize and fight. Would that we once more might see in that exalted position one with the courage of a Jackson, the militant honesty of a Cleveland, the matchless statesmanship and the fine fighting qualities of a Woodrow Wilson."

Senator Harrison ran the gamut of the Harding-Coolidge administration in a series of biting criticisms. A large part of his speech was taken up with a resume of the disclosures of Senate investigating committees. The oil policies, in particular, came in for vigorous denunciation.

"Show this administration an oil well," he said, "and it will show you a foreign policy."

Administration Fails
"America has taken the measure of this administration," he continued. "It might have been able to free itself from the sectional identity, and to have looked beyond the skies of New England. It might have heard the groans of the distressed farmers of the West and sympathetically responded. It might have sought markets and removed the tariff jams in the channels through which our surplus products move. It might have visualized world conditions and courageously assumed the part befitting a great nation. It might have reduced living costs, redeemed pledges to the soldier, followed a definite domestic program, and adopted a broad and statesmanlike foreign policy but, even then, it would have availed it nothing with its carnival of corruption."

"The least that the American people expect of their public servants is common honesty. They will forgive their passivity, overlook their indi-cretions, and, too often, forget their impotency, but to them corruption is inevitable, graft is indispensable."

Referring to Senate inquiries, Senator Harrison was unsparing in his criticisms of former Secretaries De-by and Fall, former Attorney General Daugherty, Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans' Bureau and former Senator Newberry, of Michigan.
He paid high tribute to Senator Thomas J. Walsh, of Montana, prosecutor of the oil inquiry and others connected with the various investigations.

Tells of Investigations "Decry them as they will, the American people know that it was these investigations—conducted by Democrats but through republican committees—that sent Alvin Karpis to Three Rivers a disgraced man. It was these investigations that compelled Edwin Denby's retirement from the cabinet. It was these investigations that drove Daugherty back to Washington Court House. It was these investigations that caused government aspirants against their government to take their own lives rather than face the truth. It was these investigations that pointed to the hideous way of Forbes and meaninglessness to the Veterans' Bureau. It was these investigations that put a Republican congressman behind bars and that brought investigation from the Senate and the American people and the truth

"DON'T SHOOT UNTIL YOU SEE THE WHITES OF THEIR EYES"

Few occurrences in Kentucky have provoked more widespread condemnation than the shooting of three children near Olive Hill, Ky., by a constable and three deputies looking for bootleggers.

If the matter has been correctly reported by the press the facts in the case are these:

"The officers were looking for a bootlegger in a Ford. The children, 12 and 13 years of age, had been swimming. While they were driving home, singing, they were told to halt, were fired on and all of them were wounded."

In Lexington an example of the same kind of practice has been furnished in Woodland Park. Here an officer has been removed by the board of city commissioners. It is charged that, believing he had seen a man drinking in the park, he had pursued him, firing three shots in the park Sunday afternoon, thereby endangering the lives of women and children in the park.

In Louisville, promiscuous firing on the roads when officers suspected automobiles of rum running, resulted in so many mistakes that such tactics have now been forbidden. For a while no person in a car of the make of a suspected car was safe. The officers would shout and fire. No one, these days, can tell whether he is being held up by bandits or stopped by officers.

But little children, singing in their flivver, returning home from swimming, should be safe.

It is to protect such as they that

ASHLAND'S PLAYGROUNDS

"We lift up our eyes unto the hills," were the first words uttered at the Great National Conference on Outdoor Recreation gathered by President Coolidge and jubilantly driven into action by young Theodore Roosevelt at Washington city the other day. It was the Chairman of the house of Representatives, the Rev. James Shera Montgomery who released that echo of King David's exultant, "I will lift up mine eyes unto the hills, from whence cometh my help," which you have heard rolling down through the ages. More felicitous application of ancient words to an occasion altogether new in American governmental annals has never been heard.

The President of the United States to whose heart this conference which he has dreamed into actuality is very close, followed the ancient words with new words to his countrymen saying:

"Get the children out of the alleys and off the streets and into the good sunlight and fresh air."

And this: "Then sports there is no better common denominator of the people—no more truly democratic force can be set off against the tendency to class and caste than the democracy of prowess in sport."

And young Theodore Roosevelt voiced the same sentiment when he said:

"A soft body too often predicates a soft soul. The cure for both is our out-of-doors."

And further on in the conference, Mr. Coolidge said:

"Our youth needs instruction in how to play as much as in how to work. They need opportunity for outdoor life and recreation no less than opportunity for employment. Side by side with the industrial plant should be the gymnasium and the athletic field. Along with the learning of a trade should go the learning of recreational activities."

He drew to a close in this matchless address on a lyric note not usual with him:

"Our country is a land of varied climates and scenery, of mountain and plain, of lake and river. It is the American heritage. We must make it a land of vision, a land of work, a land of sincere striving, but we must add to these an ample effort to make it a land of wholesome enjoyment and perennial gladness."

With this endorsement from President Coolidge on playground and recreation, Ashland people will be glad to know that our city is the first in Kentucky to accept the provisions of the new law just recently passed by the Kentucky legislature whereby a city may make a levy to support this work. At the last meeting of the city council, $2500.00 was set aside to aid this playground movement, and the Mayor appointed a very able commission composed of Mrs. W. P. Wheeler, Mrs. A. W. Humphrey, Miss Marion Russell and L. R. Putnam. This means that work will be properly handled as this is an excellent commission.—Ashland Independent.

When Three Is Company

For week-end camping trips there's nothing so delightfully refreshing as the real Orange-Crush.

Here are six reasons: (1) The natural fruit oil of oranges—which gives that delicate and distinctive flavor. (2) The natural fruit acid of the citrus fruits (oranges, lemons and limes)—which gives the tang. (3) Orange juice. (4) Carbonated water—which gives "zip," sparkle, purity. (5) U. S. Certified food color—which makes it as appealing to the eye as to the taste. (6) Pure cane sugar.

That's all. My, what a drink! Order it by the case.

ADMINISTRATION CONDEMNED IN KEYNOTE SPEECH

Calvin Coolidge was the recipient of a private secretary who had traded and trafficked in public patronage. It was these investigations that led a Republican Senator to convict the President's National Committee for framing a Democratic Senator because he dared to do the right.

Comparing the investigations into Democratic and Republican administrations Senator Harrison said it was "not graft alone that offers in the two administrations such happy comparisons."

"During these little more than three years," he said, "we have seen the present administration float along, tossed by every current, fanned by every breeze, without purpose, program or policy. Upon a thousand issues they have hoisted the white flag of surrender."

Cleveland Convention

Senator Harrison declared that nothing in "burlesque or opera bouffe" was comparable to the "scene recently enacted at Cleveland in the efforts of the Silent Sphinx of the Potomac to exile and expatriate those Republican Senators who dared to oppose his mandate."

"They dared to vote an investigation of a number of the president's official family and they are penalized for their decency," he said.

"By every device known to process camouflages by every subtle trained of legerdemain the republican nominee, in true pharisaical fashion, sought to divorce himself from his former comrades in arms. The plan is obvious; the plot is futile. Neither the president nor his flagstaff army headed by General Butler and Sergeant Stearns can conceal the ugly fact that the Cleveland convention was the most highly organized, boss-ridden, and oleaginous ever held in America. The American people will not be deceived."

"The American people will know that they are dealing with a system; that even though Hanna, Quay and Penrose are dead, their spirits go marching on in the personages of the Three Musketeers of present day Republicanism—Butler, Stearns and Stump."

Turning to a discussion of the Mellon tax proposal, Senator Harrison asserted that it was conceived in the interest of privilege.

"What is this Mellon that Mellon sought to cut?" he asked. "It would have given 12,000 of the 3,585,985 income tax payers in America 51 per cent of the total reduction."

Democrat Platform

The temporary chairman declared under the leadership of Simmons in the Senate and Garner in the House, the democratic tax reduction proposal triumphed, "not because we were

ATHLETIC COACH TO TRAIN UNDER YOST

H. R. Garrett, of L. M. U. Spending Summer in Michigan—Back in August.

HARROGATE, June 24.—H. R. Garrett, coach of the athletic teams at Lincoln Memorial university, left today for the University of Michigan where he will spend the summer in training under Yost, internationally famous in the athletic world. Coach Garrett will take up work in the three major sports—football, basketball and baseball. He will return to Lincoln Memorial university in August to make his plans for the training camp of the L. M. U. football nine, which will begin about September 10th.

Coach Garrett began his athletic career at Rian Jarvis college, Texas. Later he went to Midland college, Texas, where he made three letters. From there he went to Texas Christian college where he again made three letters each of the two years he was there. After leaving Texas Christian college, he went as tackle to Howard college, Birmingham and again starred in the three major sports.

For two years he coached at South-eastern college, Auburn, Ga., and in 1922 he coached at Cisco college, Cisco, Texas.

He is a native Tennessean, having been born in Johnson City while his father was president of Milligan college.

City Filling Up
Pond at Sixteenth

Residents in the vicinity of Sixteenth street near the pond are appreciative of the work of the city in helping to fill the pond which has long been a public menace. Dirt and other refuse from street excavations are now being dumped into the pond.

Twenty feet of the pond belongs to the city, it is understood, the alley continuing through the water. Several hundreds of loads dirt and concrete have been thrown into it by residents during the past few years. The dirt now being thrown into it will add considerably to filling it.

"Not in business for his health"

YOU hear that expression so often that you're apt to enter all stores with the idea of being on your guard against overcharges.

That's bad. If the man you deal with is that sort, you try to find another; usually you do. He loses in the end.

Your interests come first here. You get the kind of material you want; always at a fair price. We look first at what you get from a sale; what we get comes second. Nothing queer about it; we simply recognize that your confidence in us will take care of what we get out of it.

One of the lines we feature is Cornell-Wood-Board. It's real quality. You get your money's worth. It's all-wood, triple-sized to resist moisture, mill-primed to take paint, oatmeal-finish for good looks. Large, clean panels make it ideal for walls and ceilings. It's just like good, knotty board. Phone for our booklet on its many uses about the home and garage.

The new Super Cornell-Wood-Board is over half again as thick as ordinary wall board. It does any wall board job better.
